Lime Deposits At Doreen to Be Developed?

For a long time, numerous years in fact, it has been known that a deposit of lime was located at Doreen and it is the very finest kind of limit for the land as it is already in a powdered form and ready to be absorbed by the plant life. This deposit is located only a mile from the Doreen depot. The stuff has been tried out by the farmers around Terrace and it has been found to be the best yet discovered for the particular ills of the land of that part of the country. The same applies to practically all the land through the northern interior.

The great drawback thus far has been the lack of transportation facilities to the deposit. For a number of years efforts have been made to get the government to build a road into the lime deposit. It now begins to look as if something would be done in the not distant future. On Thursday last Douglas Lay, resident mining engineer, under whose department any work or development would come, paid a visit to Doreen for the purpose of examining the deposit of lime, the extent of it and the possibilities for developing. It is contended that with a truck road from the station to the lime deposit, the lime could be put on the cars at a dollar a ton. This would bring the stuff within reach of all, if the freight rate did not eat it all up. There is reason to believe that the railway company would give every consideration as it would mean a lot of tonnage for that company, and that is the one thing the railway needs.

SEASON IS GENERALLY LATE

Dr. H. C. Winch returned on Saturday last after attending a session of the Economic Council in Victoria. He says that he found business conditions in the south very much better than when he was down last time. The business men report more business and better collections and all seem to have taken on a brighter outlook. As for the season the Doctor says that it is late all through the province, and the Kootenai district is not ahead of this district. The Fraser Valley is ahead of us and some of the crops are up, but generally speaking everything in this section is about as far ahead as the lower part of the province.

COME TO NEW HAZELTON ON MAY 24th.

New Hazelton will hold its usual sports day and grand dance at night on Victoria Day, May 24. The Citizens Association has organized several committees to handle the details, and prepare the program. There will be three ball games if satisfactory arrangements can be made with a Smithers team to come down. There will be foot races for the children and for the adults, and at night the big dance will be held in the New Hazelton hall. See advertisement elsewhere in this issue.

Miss Evelyn Hudson, for eight years in the agriculturist's office in Smithers, recently resigned her post and has gone south to make her home. Before leaving Smithers she was given a farewell party at the home of Mrs. Lewis and a good many of her friends were present. Miss Hudson was quite a favorite among her friends and Smithers and the civil service at that point lost a good citizen and a good civil servant when Miss Hudson left.

Prince Rupert

By The Sea

From Our Own Reporter

This city may be a shade short on ready money, but the town is certainly long on totem poles. The railway park, overlooking the docks, has three. And now Prince Rupert finds itself the possessor of ten more, five of which have been delivered. All are from the Queen Charlotte Islands, the gift of Indians. And all are old and frisky, genuine, weather-beaten, honest to goodness totem poles. They will stand on the Acropolis Hill and form a feature of a park system to be gradually developed there.

Mr. and Mrs. James McNulty are back in Prince Rupert for a few months, to give Mr. McNulty, jr., an opportunity to enjoy a change of scenery. The former make their home in California, and since last here been overseas and in various parts of the United States.

The distribution of Silver Jubilee Medals in Prince Rupert has awakened some curiosity. While the list of recipients is regarded as entirely fitting and deserving, there is nevertheless a lingering desire to know the identity of the person or persons who recommended those entitled to the King's grace.

The train that arrived in Prince Rupert on Monday night brought the body of Peter Black, jr., back to the town in which he had spent his boyhood. The funeral took place the following Monday, service being conducted in First Presbyterian church. The attendance was large. Peter, studying at McGill University, was found dead in his apartments on Sherbrooke St., Montreal.

Halibut boats, little and big, are breaking the raging main, and folks are eating fresh fish once more. The liver crisis has been successfully surmounted, the men and boat owners having finally come to an agreement on the question of halibut livers and Prince Rupert has regained its normal tone.

Olof Hanson, M.P. is recovering from an attack of lumbago, which was severe enough to keep him in his rooms for a few days.

JUNKET RECIPE

The following recipe is taken from the publication "Milk Desserts" issued by the Department of Agriculture. Junket, the simplest of milk desserts, is made by coagulating lukewarm milk with rennet and adding the desired sweetening and flavoring. Rennet or junket, as it is commonly called, is sold in both tablet and powder form, the latter containing sugar, flavoring and in addition to the rennet some coloring. Junket is delicious served with crushed fruit.

One junket tablet; 1 tablespoon cold water; 2 or 3 tablespoons sugar; pinch of salt; 1 quart milk; 1 teaspoon vanilla or other flavoring; coloring if desired.

Crush and dissolve tablet in cold water. Add sugar and salt to milk and heat to lukewarm. Remove from heat and add tablet and flavoring. Pour into dessert dishes and let stand at room temperature for 20 minutes. Then chill.

OLOF HANSON, M.P.

Who was confined to his rooms several days suffering from an attack of lumbago. He will be able to go to Ottawa in time for the House opening.

New Hazelton And District

Capt. Parkinson of the Salvation Army at Glen Vowell, preached in the United Church in New Hazelton on Sunday morning and in Hazelton in the evening.

Douglas Lay, district mining engineer has been spending a few days in the Usk and Terrace districts. This is the first field work this season, and he found development in those districts very interesting.

It is reported from Usk that Buck Shannon's property is rapidly coming to the producing stage. For a long time development work has been in charge of Mr. Shenton. A long tunnel has been driven and a big lead has been encountered which is most promising.

The old road between five mile at New Hazelton, and nine mile east of New Hazelton has now been put in shape for light traffic. This is to do until the appropriation for the cut off is made available.

Seeding in this particular section is now well under way and in some of the more favored spots it has been finished. To the east, however, very little seeding has yet been done.

Word was received the end of the week that Arthur Winch will arrive home on Saturday of this week to spend a short holiday.

The Hazelton Natives are holding their annual field day of sports tomorrow and Friday.

President Roosevelt stated recently that already the United States had paid to the veterans of the war $1500. For that reason he intended to veto the veterans bill for two or more billion dollars additional. The above average was based on the five million men who were recruited.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Evans and family of Smithers motored down last Sunday and spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. D. Parent.

The lumber mills in the United States, especially in the west, are in a tight place. Most of them are tied up with strikes. Many other industries are also suffering from strikes. In Canada there are also a number of strikes and an occasional display of temper.

Success With Beef Cattle on Local Feeds

John Edstrom of Vanderhoof has demonstrated conclusively that beef can be produced in the Central Interior and on home grown feeds as successfully as in any other part of Canada. Two calves born March 15 and March 30, 1934, were well fed and cared for on the Edstrom farm and marketed dressed in Prince George during the latter part of April and first week in May. The carcasses weighed 502 pounds and 482 pounds respectively. The meat was well marbled and had a good covering of fat and reported to be as good beef as ever was sold in that city by the local butchers who handled it. Well finished young beef is always in good demand and the trade will pay top price for such products. The good covering of fat not only makes meat more edible, but helps protect the carcass from discoloration and enables the dealer to display the meat to the customer.

The greatest menace to the beef market is the poorly finished, poorly dressed carcasses which have to be sold at reduced prices in order to move them. In this way the prices of all beef is depressed.

RETURNS TO THE NORTH

Robt. Hunter, for a number of years with the Union Bank of Canada, and later with the Royal Bank, has retired from the bank and is now enroute to the north country again, where he is going to make his home. He and Mrs. Hunter left Vancouver on Thursday of last week to drive through by car. The roads are none too good and they took their time. Their household goods arrived at New Hazelton on Saturday. Mr. Hunter will build a home on their property at Two Mile and will make this their residence in future. Mr. and Mrs. Hunter will be welcomed back to the north by a host of friends.

Lakelse Lake has proved quite an attraction to a number of the local people during the past week. Much work is being done by house owners in preparation to the summer holidays.

Silver was quoted at 73½¢ the first of the week. It is claimed that so long as the price of gold remains as high as it is that silver will stay up where it is or go higher.

Prospects Good Phillips Creek For Placer Gold

Down around Phillips Creek, quite close to Vanarsdol and Terrace, some of the boys are getting results from placer mining and by the interest that is being taken in that small creek, the results will be greater before the present season is over. Like so many new prospects all over the country and in all mining countries, Phillips creek was blanketed by one or two parties and that shut out some others. But, if the first stakers do not get busy and develop their claims they become open again and will be taken up by those who want to prospect. This small creek is so easy to work that it looks too good to be true, but it will be worked this year. The gold is in flakes with the odd nugget, but so far all that has been done is to stir up the rock and mud, wait until the water settles and then pick out the gold.

TOOK $200 IN CASH AND CHEQUES

Some person or persons, as yet unknown, entered the office of O'Neill & Wall of Smithers on Monday night and helped themselves to about $200 in cash and cheques from the safe. To enter the building would be comparatively easy, but what about the safe? Wigs O'Neill could not say for sure whether he had locked the safe the night before or not, or it might have been some one who knows how to open safes and as yet had not made known his particular specialty. Any way Wiggs is wondering what to do about the two hundred. That sum is not picked up every day.

HOME CANNING EQUIPMENT AND MATERIAL

Safe canning of fruits and vegetables requires care in every step of the process. Jars, lids and all utensils must be absolutely clean. It is not necessary to get a special canning outfit as the old clothes boiler, or other tight fitting container will answer the purpose. Put a rack with slats in the bottom to keep the jars an inch from the bottom. Have water two inches above top of jars. The time required varies with the variety of fruit, vegetable or meat.

A USEFUL HOUSEHOLD SPRAY

A very useful spray for destroying insects in dwellings and farm buildings may be easily and cheaply made from pyrethrum insect powder and kerosene. According to the directions of the Dept. of Agriculture, Ottawa, the spray is prepared by adding one-half pound of pyrethrum to one gallon of kerosene, allowing the mixture to stand, and agitating it at intervals over a period of two hours or longer, thus insuring that practically all the active principal of the pyrethrum is dissolved. The residue of the pyrethrum settles to the bottom of the vessel as a brown sediment, and the clear liquid, which is pale lemon colored, may either be syphoned or filtered off.

For household use water-white kerosene should be used and it will stain nothing, and to avoid the unpleasant odor methyl salicylate or oil of sassafras may be added at the rate of two or three fluid ounces to each gallon of mixture. For use against bed bugs add about one-half pint of cresol to each gallon. Keep the mixture in an air tight container to prevent evaporation.

THE LIBERAL CONSERVATIVE POLICY

The careful perusal of our newspapers from day to day has brought to our personal attention the large number of honest to goodness Canadian citizens who claim to possess a sure remedy for whatever national ailments at present afflict us, and immediately dispel all other ills that may befall us in the near or distant future.

"What is wrong with Canada" is a phrase scarcely ever omitted from at least one page of the daily papers. There appears to be a greater number of civil warriors now ready and willing to rescue Canada from "Total destruction" than were enlisted in the courageous army of Canadian warriors who willingly offered their lives to protect the Dominion from her real enemies and prevent her absorption.

At this moment there comes mind by her ruthless foes. The sorrowful statement of a widow who, on being compelled to pay a wage made by her late husband that he could "ride a fly-wheel in a saw mill" bitterly remarked:

"Well, William was a fine man and kind husband, but he didn't know so much about fly wheels."

And, likewise, these people who retain in their possession a reliable prescription for national sickness, are really fine citizens, kind neighbors and truly loyal to King and country, and have a perfect right to present and explain their views on any legislative action. But it seems quite clear that they lack the necessary experience in the very cause of which they are ardent exponents. The environment of their every day life and their seclusion from direct contact with world leaders who, occasionally, may stack the deck in the exciting but dangerous game of international politics, naturally, through no shortage of ability or intelligence, places them beyond the possibility of success in having their honest opinions even scrutinized in the established tribunal of elected authority.

At the present time Canadians are perhaps, displaying greater interest in politics than ever before. While they are not all members of regularly constituted legislative bodies, they possess the estimable human quality of self-respect and respect for authority, added to which is a sincere desire to support and labor for a government policy that will produce the best results for all—not for a few.

And this brings us to the Bennett policy of economic reform and national reconstruction. Mr. Bennett, as the world at large is well aware, has, fortunately just recently emerged from a serious illness. It is generally understood and, we believe, his own desire, that he lead his party in the coming election. But, if the state of his health at that time is such as to prevent his entry into the contest with his usual whole-hearted zeal, another will take his place to lead on to victory for the party at the polls, and the Bennett policy will still be the policy of the Liberal-Conservative party.

Thus, when the date of the election is announced, all voters and all political parties will know that the Liberal-Conservative party is seeking a return to office through a clearly defined and carefully prepared policy of national advancement, a policy which, once in operation, will almost at once remove many annoying obstacles now obstructing the progress of Canada.

This policy may reveal some defects as might be expected in such a huge scheme, but should any appear (of which it is now doubtful) as the program is developed, they will be particularly studied, systematically dealt with and quickly eliminated.

No other party in the approaching election will offer the electors such a clear-cut, understanding proposal, and the voters cannot err if they unitedly support the candidates of the Liberal Conservative party in Canada.

Addressing an audience of more than a thousand representative business men at Toronto recently, E. W. Beatty, K.C., LL.D., chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, stated that the Canadian National Railway system was never an honest experiment in public ownership and that it was neither more nor less than a sad accident. This problem, he said, constitutes Canada's most difficult problem and threatens national solvency.

Starting a tour of Canada which will include the principal centres of the Dominion, Lord Baden-Powell, Chief Scout, Lady Baden-Powell, chief of the Girl Guides, and their two daughters, landed at Vancouver from S.S. Princess Charlotte recently and are being given rousing welcomes in every center throughout the country.

YOUR GOVERNMENT AND THE PROBLEM OF RELIEF

IN British Columbia to-day there exists the intolerable condition of a large body of unemployed men—recently domiciled in camps maintained by the Federal Government under the Department of National Defence—now supporting themselves as best they may.

Your Government has every sympathy with the desire of these men for gainful occupation; but the fact remains that under the present system responsibility for the conduct of Relief Camps rests with the Federal Government.

It is not the policy of your Government to send single unemployed men to Relief Camps. It has, on the other hand, been its unremitting task to prevail upon the Federal Authorities to assume full responsibility for unemployment in Canada. It has constantly pressed for the establishment of a National Unemployment Board and for the inauguration of a nationwide programme of useful public works and assistance to private industry—financed on the national credit of the Dominion—to absorb the unemployed in gainful work.

The present situation, deplorable as it is, is made more so by the activities of subversive elements determined to undermine all existing institutions. These groups have capitalized the distress of their fellows in order to gain their own ends. There has been intimidation of business establishments and encouragement in acts of violence.

Your Government, contrary to the general impression, has never required unemployed whose homes have been in British Columbia, to go to Relief Camps. The facts are:

There were on April 15 last, 4096 single men in National Defence Relief Camps in British Columbia, while the Province maintained 15,500 single men and women—6,000 in Vancouver alone—in their homes.

The cost to the Provincial Treasury alone is approximately $450,000 a month. Ottawa adds a fixed grant of $150,000 a month.

Of these men in Relief Camps, more than 75% are not residents of British Columbia.

Special Health Camps are maintained exclusively by the Province, and these and other health services cost approximately $18,000 a month. Medical care is given and special attention paid to diet and sanitation for those unfit for labor.

Recreational and physical training centres for unemployed youth have been established and placed under expert supervision. Enrolment of three thousand attests to the popularity of these centres.

Your Government, apart from all this, is maintaining an average of seventy-five hundred physically unfit men a month in the City of Vancouver. Last year this branch of Relief administered from Hamilton Hall cost $1,000,000.

The cost of relief for the year 1934 was as follows: Provincial Government, $4,468,785; Dominion Government, $2,302,650; Municipalities, $1,250,062. This does not include costs of Relief Camps to the Dominion Government.

It has never been contended by your Government that a public works programme is of itself a sufficient solution to the unemployment problem. Every encouragement should be given to private endeavour, but it is considered that a public enterprise programme is a practical and reasonable method of lessening our difficulties in a form useful to all. Private endeavour has not been able and will not be able for some time to absorb all the employable now out of work. With so many necessary things to be done public undertakings should play a prominent part in improving the economic and social life of our people.

The next in the series of these messages will appear in the daily and rural press at an early date.

The grading work on the new tennis court is now finished and the work crew has put on the covering of brick dust.

The C. G. I. T. took charge of the evening service in Knox United church on Sunday. Robt. Welch was in charge. Ruth Little and Thelma Olson gave readings from "The Life and Work of Francis Ridley Havigal". Helen Olson rendered a solo and Amy Little lead the congregation in prayer. All hymns and songs used in the service were selected from the work of Miss Havigal.

Mr. C. H. Sawle of New Hazelton spent a couple of days last week with Mrs. M. Greig.

A fire started on Friday evening on the roof of the DeJardin home on Kalum St., and was only held within small limits through the resourcefulness and prompt action of Mrs. S. G. Mill who gave the alarm and also got the baseball boys away from their game and do their stuff on the fire. Damage was confined to a hole in the roof and some water injury to contents of the house. It is covered by insurance.

The John Hanson that was mixed up in the police court in Terrace last week, an account of which appeared in this paper, was not the Hanson of Cedarvale whose name is Jack Hanson.

Vendor's Safe Wouldn't Open Shipped South

Usually the life of a liquor vendor is spent on a path of well ordered routine, but there are times when a little haywire creeps in to tie up the machinery. On Saturday night before the Silver Jubilee celebrations the local vendor, Dan McKinnon, locked up the store safe, examined the premises with care and went home. Monday was a holiday and on Tuesday morning, refreshed with the respite of the holiday, Dan opened up ready to refresh those who required refreshments. As part of the ritual of opening shop Dan went to the safe, twirled the knob but there was no result. He scratched his head, went over the numbers again, and figured he had them right. He twirled again and yet again, but the safe did not open. Some local lock experts were consulted and finally the Liquor Board was communicated with and they ordered the safe shipped to Vancouver for the safe crackers there to take a shot at it. There was considerable money in the safe too and Dan did not like to see all that money going out of town. But there was nothing else to do so on the last way-freight the safe went away. It should be back shortly. But look at the expense, says Dan, and the price of the good stuff has just come down.

HE SAW A BEAR ON TRAIL

"That's the first time a bear ever made me back up," said Orville Kenney as he wound up his tale of woe. Orville is one of the miners at the Columbario and the other day he was on his way down to a lower level, and when about half way he saw a big black coated chap sitting on the trail. Orville made various signs indicating that he wished to proceed about his business and had no time to argue with a bear. But bruin was snooty and indicated that he was there first and did not intend to leave. He also seemed to resent Orville's sign language. In the end Orville back tracked up the trail and then headed into the bush with the idea of circling the bear, but the bear knew his idea and it took to the bush also. Orville then beat it all the way back up the trail and took an old trail down to the lower level and missed the bear.

Mrs. W. R. Welch left on Thursday for Vancouver to attend the sessions of the Conference of the United church. It is understood that Rev. Mr. Welch is to be moved from Terrace to Bella Bella and that he will be leaving Terrace the latter part of June. Who is to take his place is not yet known.

Game Warden E. Martin arrived on Friday from the coast.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McIntosh have opened their summer home at Kalum.

Repreconsions of the action of H. E. Winch, M.L.A., in refusing to accept the King's Jubilee Medal have been felt locally. One of the members of the executive of the local Club told us on Saturday that as soon as he heard of Winch's action he immediately resigned his seat on the executive and withdrew from membership in the Club.

The local scribe suffered last week from a cold and a headache, and he says he did not get the headache trying to open Dan's safe either.

Indian Agent Collison paid a visit to the Vuntut reserve on Monday.

Marking the Silver Jubilee celebrations of the coronation of King George V, to be held this year, the Canadian Pacific Railway has issued a strikingly handsome folder covering the main events of the function from the King's drive to St. Paul's Cathedral on May 6 and ending with the Lord Mayor's Show on November 9.

A beautiful new menu card for the King's Jubilee celebrations has been designed by the Canadian Pacific Railway to be used in all the company's hotels from coast to coast, on ships of the Atlantic and Pacific fleets and on world cruise ships. Its front cover is done in gold with the Canadian Coat of Arms in color at the top and the Canadian Pacific crest at the bottom. The back cover, also done in gold, shows a train in the Rockies, the Chateau Frontenac at Quebec City and the Empress of Britain. A maple leaf below the Coat of Arms and a space on the back for autographs completes the menu card.

The world is invited to attend the annual Rose Festival to be held at Portland, Oregon, June 6, 7 and 8. This, one of the outstanding fetes of the United States, will this year show many new and beautiful features, among which the 47th annual rose show of the Portland Rose Society will be not the least important.
